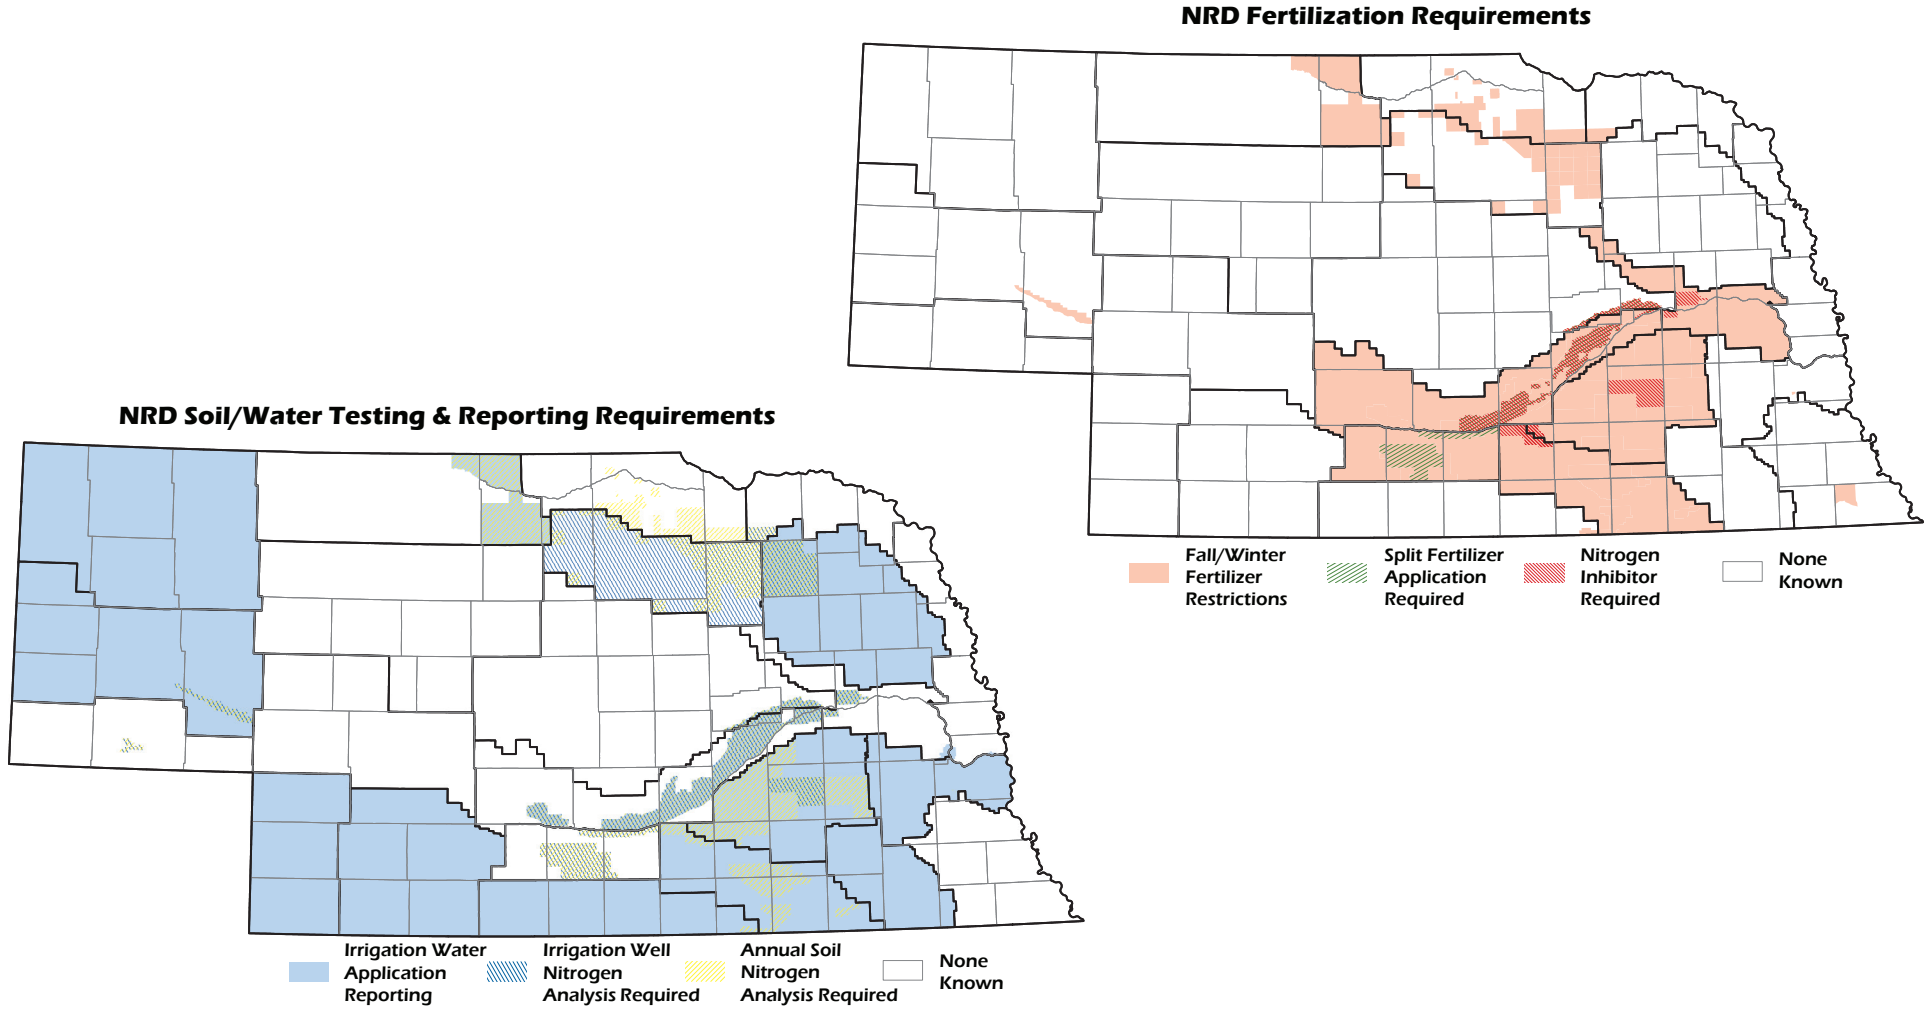
Nebraska's NRDs Lead the Nation in Groundwater Quality Management by Targeting Areas with Know Non-Point Source Contamination



Source: NDEQ/NARD, 2016 based on personal communication with all Natural Resources Districts (NRD)s.
The NRD required management practices depicted in the above maps are select examples of required management practices.
Various other management practices are either required by the NRDs or are promoted on a voluntary basis. For specific information about current management practices please contact your local NRD.
